Is the McKinley bill or the festive microbes the cause of the remarkable scarcity of butter? Maybe it is the bacteria in the milk.

In the past ten years forty-three railway postal clerks have been killed and nearly five hundred injured. The railway mail service seems a very hazardous as well as skillful business.

As one reads President Harrison's remarkable speeches in the South, the ability of the man grows upon him. If the President isn't greatly increasing his popularity all indications count for nothing.

Italy is waiting all right now without serious growing. The war has been put down by the five thousand newspapers—mightier than swords—with which the bully editors proceeded to whittle the European boot in short order.

The gentleman who is alleged to have told the Upper Sandusky Union that fifteen business rooms were vacant here can challenge Eli Perkins' claim to be the biggest liar on earth. Excepting the new rooms not yet completed there are but two empty business rooms in the city.

The announcement is made that the legislature will likely adjourn next Monday. If this fine weather dispels the grip and brings about the adjournment of the Ohio legislature, besides the impetus it is giving nature's works, there ought to be no fault-finding with the weather clerks for a year to come.

It begins to look as though Pennsylvania would have to keep a standing army to quell threatening laboring troubles. A student of the times finds much food for thought in the labor troubles of the day. Between the agitator on one hand and the tyrannical employer on the other, the situation in many places is seriously threatening.

The efforts to secure a jury for the Makely murder trial are developing a heretofore unheard-of number of men who are opposed to capital punishment. There is a suspicion that many of the jurors called have professed the objection to escape jury service. If the suspicion is without ground Marion is largely opposed to hanging murderers.

A bill has been introduced into the legislature providing a change in the manner of securing public printing. Senator Van Cleaf introduced the bill at the request of 25,000 petitioners who think that printing should be let by contract to the lowest bidder, instead of being paid for at extortionate rates. The Marion council might move in that direction and save a nice sum. There is a growing feeling that will eventually compel such reform all over the state.

Sun Spots.
For several years the sun has been in a quiescent condition, its surface being comparatively free from spots, and its prominences of comparatively infrequent occurrence and insignificant proportions. The great luminous body has been passing through its minimum sun spot period; for the past producing activity of the sun is governed by laws that the close observation of the last two centuries has interpreted, while observers are still groping after the cause of the spots themselves.

It takes about eleven years to complete a sun spot cycle, though the intervals are irregular. Each cycle includes a maximum and a minimum period, which are also irregular. The spots vary greatly in number. During some cycles the sun's face is never free from them; during others it is unmarked for days, and even for months. As the last maximum period recurred about 1845, it is time to anticipate a recurrence of sun activity, and recent observations show that the activity has already begun.

Enormous flares are taking place on the surface of the sun, and will be followed for the two or three coming years by spots of every variety. There will be normal spots, consisting of an umbra and penumbra, and spots irregular in form and gathered in groups. The sizes of the spots vary from 500 miles to 50,000 miles or more, and they are often large enough to be visible to the naked eye. They may last for a few days, or for weeks or months. Their distribution is mostly confined to two zones on the sun's surface, between 5 degrees and 40 degrees of latitude north and south.

Other signs of solar agitation follow in the wake of the sun spots. Gigantic solar eruptions, known as solar prominences, rise from the sun's border, like tongues of flame, sometimes to the height of hundreds of thousands of miles. The earth bears witness to the disturbed state of the sun for aurora borealis in the heavens, magnetism reaches its greatest point of excitation and electricity takes on its most brilliant manifestations—Yonah's companion.

Forgery Made Easy.
Forgery is encouraged by the bad practices that have grown up in the commercial houses. The use of stylized letters and machine type. Many have believed, recognizing the lack of character in a signature written with a stylized pen, have discarded the old method of signing checks and papers of similar importance, and other firms require documents to be signed with a steel or quill pen. A stylized signature is easily imitated, and when it comes to the time of signing a document a difficulty is met, arising from the effect of the movement on the pen. The characteristic features, which are still more dangerous, because they can be copied exactly by the use of copying pads.—London Tit Bits.

THE MAKLEY MURDER CASE.

Efforts to Secure a Jury as Yet In Vain. Another Verdict Drawn.

In the case of State of Ohio vs. Joseph P. Makley, of Dayton, indicted for murder in the first degree, now on trial at this place, a jury has not yet been selected. The whole of yesterday and today have been spent in a vain endeavor to secure the requisite twelve "good men and true," who have not formed or expressed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused, and who are not conscientiously opposed to capital punishment. Sixty-five jurors have already been found wanting, with eleven men already in the box, while the defense is yet entitled to eight peremptory challenges. Court adjourned until this afternoon to enable the sheriff to summon the third special venire. The jury will not doubt be completed sometime this evening, when the case will proceed to trial. Many of the Dayton witnesses have already arrived.

LATER.

The jury has just been completed, as we go to press. Those who will decide the fate of Joseph Makley are: Winfield Dickason, W. E. Denman, W. C. Kramer, William Stark, Charles Neibauer, S. F. Barnhouse, James McKinstry, Christian Hoberman, Geo. Schoenlaub, U. W. Kelly, Peter Bogert and B. W. Gumpert. They consist of nine farmers, one traveling man, one storekeeper and one stone mason. Prosecuting Attorney Crissinger is presenting the case to the jury and will be followed by Attorney Spriger, of Dayton, for the defense.

INFANTICIDE AT OWEN.

A Newly Born Babe Found Dead in a Small Creek—The Coroner Will Make an Investigation.

An undoubted case of infanticide was unearthed at Owen Monday afternoon. About 5 o'clock Jacob Seiter, proprietor of the saw-mill about a half mile east of the little village, discovered what he took to be a bundle of clothing floating in the small creek near his place. He at once proceeded to investigate and found a baby wrapped in the clothes. The infant had not been dressed and a string about its neck indicated strangulation. The find was reported and Coroner McMurray at once sent for. He at once left the city for Owen and made an examination. He found a fully developed male child, apparently newly born, which was brought to this city this morning at an early hour and prepared for burial, which took place at the Marion cemetery.

The coroner and prosecuting attorney will go to Owen and make an investigation as soon as the latter can find time, which may be this evening. Suspicion at present rests upon a young girl who has been employed as a domestic in the neighborhood of Owen, but investigation is needed to verify it.

Notes From the Opera.

Mrs. Gruendler, the "Buttercup" of last night's performance, paid our stage hands of Music Hall quite a compliment. Said she: "The boys that run the stage for us last night are as polite and gentlemanly as any we have met in Ohio this season."

The bouquet that was given Miss Richardson, who sang Josephine so charmingly, was accompanied by a card bearing the inscription, "To Miss Richardson, with our compliments. Mrs. Hermann F. Gruendler, Mr. Gruendler and H. E. Hall."

The Library, which benefits tonight, is one of our very deserving institutions, and every body should turn out. The price of a ticket is very small compared with the real good its cost will accrue to the Library, besides its purchaser will see and hear one of the finest productions ever put on in Music Hall.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Death at Green Camp.
John Bricker, aged 73 years and one of the most prominent and well-to-do citizens of Green Camp, died at his home one mile north of that place, Monday night at 9 o'clock. He had been sick but three or four days with grip, and his death was unexpected. Mr. Bricker leaves a wife and five children to mourn his death. He was a much respected citizen and a prosperous farmer, and the owner of large tracts of land.

The Board of Education met Monday night and organized for the year. Hon. B. G. Young was elected president; John J. Hane treasurer and H. M. Ault clerk. This makes Mr. Ault's tenth year as clerk, an evidence of highly satisfactory service.

The board now consists of the following members: J. J. Hane, Solomon Oppenheimer, Dr. F. W. Thomas, B. G. Young, B. F. Waples and J. A. Walford. The board set apart a day in the last week of the school year for the second annual school picnic.

FASHION'S FOIBLES.

It is now intimated that the shawl collar upon the swallow tail coat is soon to be numbered among the "has-beens."

Thoroughbred men of fashion do not care to wear the bill of larger denomination as are usually placed in the leather card case.

When the coming season has fairly set in neckwear will cease to be the dominant feature of coloring in the masculine list of fixings. There will be then the shirt, cash and hat to divide the colorful scrutiny of all beholders.

The very latest phase of the waterproof advancement is the new summer rain coat. It is made with a cape of extra high weight, and is material in a variety of patterns, and is designed to admit of more thorough ventilation, while minimizing the heat incitement.

Four or five white pinks mused closely, so as to seem like one flower, is the favored boutonniere of the season. The introduction of a bit of color and faint perfume in the shape of two or three violets grouped together in the lower right corner among the pinks realizes an effect at once classic and novel.

The tendency in the length of men's coats has given rise to some disquieting rumors upon the subject of an immediate revival of the Prince Albert frock coat in enhanced length of tail and width of lapel that should awaken memories of the period of the direct ry. There is, happily, no occasion for alarm just yet over any such abrupt tangent of fashion.—Clothes and Furnisher.

Jerry Built Fortresses in Russia.

Some extraordinary revelations have just been made at St. Petersburg as to the manner in which certain frontier fortresses recently constructed, and as it was supposed, strengthened, have actually been built. It appears that even in this perilous field of enterprise the jerry builder has been reaping a rich harvest. At two separate fortresses his frauds have been detected. A commission of revision on inspecting the walls of the celebrated stronghold Novo Georgievsk, formerly known as Modlin, and situated between Warsaw and the German frontier, found that the newly constructed outer walls were not more substantial than those of a piece of theatrical scenery.

A thin outer layer of half bricks concealed a hopelessly rotten fabric composed of the veriest rubbish—gravel, brick dust, sand and chalk—the whole being utterly incapable of withstanding a cannonade by guns of the smallest caliber. These facts having been reported to the minister of war, the chief constructor of the fortress was arrested and tried by court martial, but he escaped with only a light penalty as distinct from the service. It having been proved that he suffered from a painful affection of the eyes. The chief constructor of the fortress of Dobno, the other stronghold concerned, was not so fortunate. The fortress was inspected by the Grand Duke Nicholas shortly before his illness, and he found the walls built so contrary to the rules of military engineering that they were incapable of affording any real defense against modern engines of war.

In accordance with the report which he made to the emperor on the subject, an order was issued that the whole of the walls in question should be razed to their foundations and rebuilt. The chief constructor solved the problem of his own punishment by blowing out his brains, and all his subordinates who were in any degree responsible were sent to Siberia. Every endeavor has, of course, been made to keep these occurrences from the knowledge of the public, but the facts of the case have come to hand through a thoroughly trustworthy channel.—Leeds Mercury.
